UNIVERSITÄT LEIPZIG

WELCOME

Dear colleagues,

we cordially invite you to the first international conference "Frontiers in biomaterial science" organized by our collaborative research centre TRR SFB 67 (www.trr67.de). The symposium will provide an update on topics like

- New Biomaterials in Bone Regeneration and Wound Healing
- Role of Glycosaminoglycan - Protein Interactions for Regeneration
- Immune Responses to Biomaterials
- Biomaterials - Preclinical and Clinical Developments

We are very happy to announce the participation of internationally renowned key note speakers who will cover these topics. In addition, we will present the most interesting projects from our collaborative research centre. Moreover, the city of Dresden situated in the heart of Europe has a rich history both in culture and science and offers a multitude of historic sites to visit.

We are very grateful to the Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft, the Technische Universität Dresden and the Universität Leipzig for their support of our meeting as well as to the European Society for Biomaterials for their endorsement of our Symposium. We hope to see you in Dresden.
